Someone's Gotta Say It

Perspective from Executive Director Marina Sampanes Peed on the not-so-easy topics that require our attention.

What's a kid to do: Speak up in the face of abuse—or remain quiet, respectful and compliant? Marina explores the components of this challenging dynamic in our latest blog, People Helping People: A Daily Dose of Courage.

Recognizing Our Social Workers

This month and everyday we celebrate the contributions of our social workers here at Mosaic Georgia.

Jaime. Sara. Sarah. Jessica. Kierra. Mairah. Karla.

We see you and we appreciate you!

March is National Social Work Month!

THE TIME IS RIGHT
FOR SOCIAL WORK

Each and every day our staff put in tremendous time, energy and effort to serve those who need our support. Among us is a team of dedicated social workers who tirelessly advocate for our clients...Read more

Mosaic in Action

Promoting Safety, Health & Justice for Gwinnett residents at the February Community Health Fair in Snellville's Lenora Park.

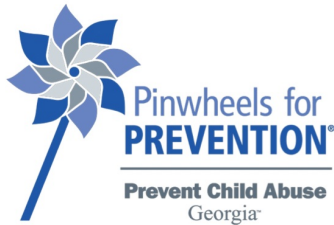

We educate the community on risks and prevention, and provide information about our forensic, legal and counseling services for those who have experienced sexual assault.

Maryam Jordan, Professional Education & Training Services Manager

On the Radar: Upcoming Training & Events

- PRO/SANE Peer Review Sessions for FME
- Didactic SANE Training April: 25-27 and May 2-4
- Clinical Skills & Expert Witness Testimony Workshop: March 31/April 1
- The Yunique Foundation's Haven retreats in North GA: April

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month

Mosaic Georgia will be participating in the national Pinwheels for Prevention campaign. Planting "Pinwheel gardens" in various childcare centers in Gwinnett County generates awareness and serves as a visual reminder that we each play a role in ensuring happiness and health for all children.

April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month

The Clothesline Project displays a string of survivor created empowerment t-shirts, honoring themselves and other victims of abuse. The clothesline will be presented in the month of April at The Gwinnett Justice and Administration Center.

How Can I Help?

We are often asked by people who want to support our mission "what can I do to help?"

Your donation is the strongest way to help empower those who have been impacted by sexual violence. Mosaic Georgia's myriad of services are free of charge. These donations allow us to continue this crucial support as well as enhance our offerings to the community. We are grateful for your support!

Making Mosaic

The people power behind our mission.

Our employees are the very heart of our organization. Find out a fun little tid bit about Sara Cherry, our Advocacy Manager!

Q: What brings you joy?

A: "The little things: seeing a rainbow, making my friends laugh, receiving fun mail, that one part of a great song, when pets "choose" me, wearing crazy socks, the first bite of my food at a restaurant... I could go on & on."

Mosaic Georgia is a private, nonprofit corporation that is a Children's Advocacy Center and Sexual Assault Center that strives for and demands safety, health and justice for children and adults victimized by sexual abuse, assault and trafficking. Please learn more at www.MosaicGeorgia.org.
